

2018 MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION FORM

BC Honey Producers' Association

Promoting and Encouraging Beekeeping in British Columbia since 1920

www.bcbeekeepers.com

Membership includes a one-year subscription to both BeesCene and Hivelights quarterly publications. The BCHPA Liability Insurance Policy is the one of its kind available in the province for individual beekeepers (incorporated companies are not eligible). By pooling our membership, we can offer this comprehensive insurance for a fraction of what it would cost individuals on their own. Members may attend the business day of the October BCHPA Annual General Meeting and the semi-annual meeting in March without charge (meals not included). Members benefit from the work of an active volunteer Executive including: Marketing (labels and brochures), Education (symposiums and website), and ongoing Advocacy (government and media relations). The BCHPA is a proud member of the Canadian Honey Council, working on our behalf.

$5 Million Coverage for only $75 year!

(Incorporated companies are not eligible for coverage.)

Beekeepers understand that there's strength in numbers. Our Group Liability Insurance Policy is the best value you'll find. If you're worried about stings, or bee smokers, or other related beekeeping risks – this is for you. Note: coverage runs January 1, 2018 to December 31, 2018. Effective date of coverage is based on date application and payment is received at the BCHPA office. Insurer will issue certificates in due course.

Please make cheques payable to the British Columbia Honey Producers' Association or BCHPA:

BCHPA, Treasurer,
P.O. Box 5594,
Victoria, B.C. V8R 6S4

New Memberships and Renewals can also be done online at www.bcbeekeepers.com

Membership dues are based on the number of honey bee colonies you keep.
